The SWS line spectrum of NGC 6302

S.R. Pottasch and D.A. Beintema
SRON, Box 800, 9700 AV Groningen, the Netherlands

Abstract

An overview of the spectral lines in the SWS range of the planetary nebula NGC 6302 is presented. The spectrum contains fine structure lines of many ions. The internal consistency of the data and the consistency with existing observations and existing models are discussed.